
How to Get to Prague

By plane

Václav Havel Airport Prague (20-25 minutes by bus from the nearest metro station)

By train

International trains usually stop at Hlavní nádraží (Main Station) directly in the city centre

By bus

Several bus stations are located in Prague – most important is Florenc directly in the city centre

City transport

Prague has well developed system of public transportation comprising underground lines, buses and trams. Some form of transportation is available any time of day